The reason why I am interested in it is because I am very keen on knowing more about my son's school. He has been studying in this school for 7 years now, yet I am uncertain about the activities that goes on in the school due to the fact that I had a baby girl who I needed to take care of and I did not have enough time to join the association to learn and contribute to the school. But she had finally grown up and I have the time to contribute to the school and learn more it.
